Hey @BOENYC, you disenfranchised @mrs_rizza & @JillianIsntJill even though they each attest to submitting materials in time—they each submitted ballots along with their husbands'. Their husbands ballots were date-stamped appropriately, theirs were marked 25th by @USPS.

The ballots had to be postmarked by 6/23 in order to be valid.

What I'm telling you is that they were mailed well in advance but their ballots weren't postmarked in time while their husbands were despite being submitted together.

We can't comment on a usps error. If the ballot is not time stamped by 6/23 it will be deemed invalid.

My ballot was mailed on 6/22. Why would other ballots mailed from the same location at the same time/date be postmarked on 6/23, but mine on 6/25?

I apologize but we can't comment on @USPS actions.

You don't get to disenfranchise a thousand people and then just apologize, YOU HAVE THEIR BALLOTS. COUNT THEM!

Replying to @DeJesusSaves @JillianIsntJill and 2 others

Again, we do not have the ability to accept a ballot that was not postmarked by 6/23.
